Thoughts taken from “Reflection on Ephesians 3: 14-21”

By Michael Wisniewski, Shepherdstown Presbyterian Church

Ephesians is composed of letters containing teachings that helped unite the various factions, of the early church in Ephesus. In Ephesians, I am reminded that the challenge is not to transform the world but to rather transform ourselves, to transform our consciousness so that we may realize the Love of God that passes beyond all understanding.

As one gets older, the travail of Life seems to become more present. What outlasts and survives this universal travail? It is only God’s Love.

An untold number of generations have come and gone.

And only Love Abides.

Each of us, sooner or later, in our lives faces a loss that is hard to bear

And only Love Abides

We see and may even be caught up in the Violence of the World

And only Love Abides

We all experience the Loss of Worldly Love

What was rich and unending

Flows away like a river

Only God’s Love Abides
